We are thrilled to announce our Archaeology ‘Roadshow’ project is being so well supported by many local groups as well as others from around Kent.
It will be an opportunity for the community to take a look at Archaeological ‘Finds’ and interesting information from both professionals and amateur enthusiasts.
An article with further information is attached.
Save the date! Saturday May 16th 2026.

On March 11th at 10.30am Jeremy Thornton will give an illustrated talk on Sheerness Dockyard covering many facets including: - Sheerness ships at Naval battles such as Trafalgar, Copenhagen and during World War 1. - figurehead carving in Royal Navy Dockyards- the industrial Revolution - the change from building wooden ships to metal ships - as well as some strange but true stories and what is left today. Everyone is welcome.
