Borden Heritage News January 2026

Stocking the Nation's Larder in WW2 was the subject of Judith Knight's extremely interesting talk this month.
We were given a demonstration of the mobile canning service used for preserving home grown and wild fruit; we were shown a variety of pails, buckets and tools and Ministry of Food posters that were used by the public as part of the Governments 'Dig for Victory' campaign and its collaboration with The National Federation of Women's Institutes to share knowledge and skills of land and animal management quickly and effectively.
